Governor Baxter Opens First Storefront as Pejepscot Purchase

TOPSHAM, MAINE. Governor Baxter, a Maine-based maker of rugged hand-crafted accessories, has announced the opening of their first storefront on Main Street in Topsham, Maine. Governor Baxter's retail location will be doing business as (DBA) Pejepscot Purchase. The merchandise will be a combination of Governor Baxter's signature products, vintage outerwear and selected brands making "sturdy goods." In addition, the space will serve as a gallery for Maine art, vintage US military surplus, and hunting gear from Governor Baxter's collection. Hours of operation to be determined, but also by appointment.

About Governor Baxter

Established in Maine in 2012 and named after the 53rd Governor of the state, our company makes rugged and retro accessories for Maine living, or what we call "good stuff for a good life." No leather. No polymer-based tech fabrics. We like wax cotton canvas, kapok and organic silk, and we even repurpose vintage WWII military blankets. Our signature product is the Governor Baxter Dog Bed in honor of the governor's beloved Irish Setter, Garry. For more information, go to governorbaxter.com.

About Pejepscot

In Wheeler's "History of Brunswick, Topsham and Harpswell" references to "Pejepscot" in the earliest deeds and claims call this area "the ancient territory". The boundaries are not well defined but one key landmark in the claim, or "Purchase" are the Androscoggin Falls which flow under the Frank Wood Bridge, connecting the main streets of Topsham and Brunswick. The storefront, at 13 Main Street, is just one block from this historic area.
